OLD LANDMARK IS TAKEN DOWN

Old Log Cabin on Steinwehr Avenue Found to be Unsafe and its Removal is Found Necessary. Had Interesting History.

One of Gettysburg's oldest landmarks fell to the ground this morning when the log cabin on Steinwehr avenue, just off of Baltimore street, was razed under the direction of its owner, Henry Lewis. The building was one of the most ancient in the town.

Mr. Lewis had hoped to save it from destruction until this summer's celebration occurred and he had received numerous requests to allow the building to stand until fall. Recently, however, it had given signs of falling apart and it was judged best for the sake of safety to raze it and the work was accordingly done.

Efforts to trace back the history of the home show that it was much over a century old. Some even claim it to have been standing for almost 180 years and it certainly looked as though the story could well be true. Mr. Lewis has owned it for some time and prior to his getting possession his mother owned the house, residing in it for over half a century. The Craig family had lived there prior to her ownership. They also were colored people and were known far and wide for their fine physique. It was a family of tall and finely proportioned men.

Numerous stories have been invented about the house but there are very few to which any credence is attached. Mr. Lewis, the present owner of the property, says that the only particular incident of interest was the return some years ago of a veteran who said he had taken refuge in the house at the time of the battle and that it had saved his life. The veteran returned years after, when Henry Lewis was a waiter at the old Battlefield Hotel, and asked about the house. He visited it during his stay here and told of having found such fine radishes and onions in the garden which he enjoyed thoroughly after his imprisonment to escape capture by the Confederates. Just before the battle opened Mr. Lewis' mother had fled, leaving a large quantity of provisions in the house but the soldier either did not find them or, if he did, failed to use them to allay his hunger.

The house was the typical log cabin of which there are now so few in existence in this section. It was always viewed with interest and curiosity by tourists and will be missed as a local landmark.

Mr. Lewis may build another house on the lot later on but for the present nothing will be done in that line.

BAD JUDGMENT

Taneytown Record Says Young People Show Bad Judgment.

There is a well authenticated report that a hosiery manufacturer has Taneytown in view for his next location. It is quite probable that such a factory can get all the help here it needs, as there are lots of young folks who will not take places to do house work, who will work in factories—an exhibition of bad judgment, in our opinion, and for a number of good reasons.—Carroll County Record.

CATCHES SLOW PAYING HACKMEN

Council Passes Ordinance Over Burgess' Veto and Hackmen who Failed to Pay Last Year are Caught. Other Council Business.

By the action taken at Tuesday evening's meeting of the town council those hackmen and liverymen who did not pay license for the past year are now compelled to pay their fee under the new ordinance or else refrain from doing any hacking before June first. This would bar them from the profitable weeks of the Odd Fellows' convention and Memorial day. As the new ordinance raises the fee for the majority it would have been better for the guides to have paid without dispute, under the old law.

The possibility of collecting for the past year is due to the fact that the license year runs from June to June.

Burgess Holtzworth returned the new ordinance with his veto on Tuesday evening saying "This ordinance is returned without my approval for reasons already filed, viz, it is unjust to the established liverymen doing business in Gettysburg the year around as it raises their license to an exorbitant fee".

The matter was then discussed and passed over the Burgess' veto, all members present voting aye. Mr. Shearer was the only councilman not in attendance. The new ordinance provides for $1 fee per passenger carrying capacity of a vehicle. The large tourist wagons will cost liverymen $20 a year each so that some will have to pay in the neighborhood of $100 who formerly were taxed only $22. The smaller man with only one team gets off with $3 whereas he used to pay $5. As pointed by Mr. Holtzworth the liveryman gets caught while the man who does hacking as a sideline is the one to be benefited. Council claimed the basis was the only one that could be taken legally that would avoid discrimination. The new ordinance allows the taxing of automobiles.

The Tax Rate

At the March meeting of the council the tax rate for this year was placed at six mills general and four mills special, an increase of one mill each over last year. Tuesday evening the finance committee reported that it had found a half mill could be taken off the special rate and an ordinance was accordingly passed levying a tax of 6 mills general and 3½ special which is still an increase of a mill and a half over last year.

The secretary was instructed to write to the proper department at Washington relative to the disposition of dead and unsafe trees at the new federal building. It seems that the government representatives refuse to take action about them and council does not wish to act without authority.

The finance committee was authorized to put on sale the new bond issue at par and interest. The bonds will accordingly be offered for sale at the First National Bank after April 2. Only as many of the thirty $500 bonds will be sold at present as are necessary. It is believed that about $10,000 worth will be placed on the market. Bids for the bonds were asked but none was received.

Preliminary passage was given to the ordinance ordaining the alley from Reynolds to Hay streets between Middle and Springs avenue.

The burgess asked for a new form of building permit containing the recently passed ordinance regarding the size and character of buildings and roofs. The request was referred to the advertising committee.

A communication was received from Martin Winter relative to there being insufficient outlet at borough bridges at Carlisle street for the water which is brought through The Tiber from land west. The question was referred to the highway committee.

William Henry asked for borough curb on the south side of Hanover street. He was informed that the curb had been authorized at a preceding meeting but no further action was taken.

An appropriation of $10 each was made to the police toward summer uniforms.

At a meeting to be held April 11th the exonerations on the tax duplicates now held by Mr. Froek will be taken up and disposed of. Council adjourned to that date.

AWOKE TO FIND HUSBAND DYING

Thurmont Woman Awakes during Early Morning Hour and Finds that her Husband is Dying. Was a Well Known Farmer.

Awakened by a noise, Mrs. Lewis A. Bollinger, of Thurmont, found her husband lying beside her in a dying condition early Tuesday morning. Mr. Bollinger had retired without complaining. During the day he had worked and seemed in his usual health. Before a physician could be summoned he expired, death ensuing but a short time afterward. Heart trouble is given as the cause. He was 68 years old and a veteran of the Civil War.

Mr. Bollinger was a farmer for twenty-four years. About five years ago he retired, moving to a small place at Thurmont. While he has been in declining health his condition was not thought serious. However, he had been advised not to work hard. Monday he worked most of the day. When he retired he said that he felt tired, but outside of this seemed to feel as well as usual. Early in the morning Mrs. Bollinger was aroused and found her husband lying beside her in a dying condition. He did not regain consciousness.

He fought in the Civil War in the Union army and was a prominent member of the G. A. R. post at Thurmont. He was also a member of the Odd Fellows.

Funeral from the house at noon Thursday. Rev. Mr. Heimer, of the Reformed church at Thurmont, of which he was a member and an elder for many years, will officiate. Interment in the United Brethren cemetery at Thurmont.

Large Force Laying Sidings on the Reading. Other Additions.

Additional passing sidings are to be built between Goldenville and Table Rock, between Centre Mills and Bendersville, between Starner and Goodyear and Mt. Holly and Carlisle Junction. The sidings are long enough that they can be operated as double track between the points. It is expected that within a short time the passing sidings will be connected, making the line a continuous double track over the entire line.

This section of line is also being electrically equipped and automatic signals installed at an expense of $27,000. Telephones are also being installed with the nearest block stations.

When the line is completed, officials say that thirty trains will be handled over the road every twenty-four hours without delay. It is expected that the work will be completed by the first of June.

FRECKLES

Good Play Booked for Walter's Theatre, Tuesday, April 2.

It occasionally happens that a theatrical company organized and equipped to play only long engagements in the larger cities like New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Chicago, are forced to fill in a few nights in the smaller cities at what are known as the one night stands, en route between the larger cities. Such an attraction is A. G. Delamater's big scenic production of Gene Stratton-Porter's, "Freckles", to be seen at Walter's-Wizard this evening.

After Coughing Months

Brooklyn, N. Y., Woman Found Relief in Vinol.
Did you ever cough for a week? Then just think how distressing it must be to have a cough hang on for three months.

Mrs. Maria Primrose of 87 Newell street Brooklyn N. Y., says: "I had a very heavy cold which settled into a chronic cough which kept me awake nights for fully three months, and felt tired all the time because my rest was broken. The effect of taking your cod liver and iron remedy Vinol is that my cough is gone. I can now get a good night's rest and I feel much stronger in every way."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements cods' livers aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron which makes Vinol so efficient for chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—at the same time building up the weakened, rundown system.

DISCUSS TARIFF AT CONFERENCE

President and Underwood Hold Second Meeting.

THE SUGAR QUESTION UP

Cane Growers in the South Are Actively Opposing Placing it on Free List.

Washington, April 2.—President Wilson and Representative Oscar W. Underwood were in conference for several hours at the White House for the second time, over features of the proposed tariff revision.

The conference was asked for by President Wilson, who had been studying the new tariff bill for several days and familiarizing himself with many of the questions about which controversy has been raised in the preparation of the Democratic revision measure.

Other conferences which are to follow with Mr. Underwood and Senator Simmons, chairman of the senate finance committee, will settle the status of the sugar, wool and agricultural schedules, so far as the party leaders can settle them, and will decide if one general bill, or separate schedule bills, shall be passed by the house.

The opponents of free sugar, chiefly representing the cane growing sections of the south, have made strong representations to the president during the last week, against the removal of all duty from that product, and the president has been weighing the arguments upon this and other tariff questions.

Since his first conference with Mr. Underwood President Wilson had gone over the tariff bill in some detail with Secretary Redfield, of the department of commerce, for whose tariff views he has high regard. It was understood that few detailed dates were under consideration at the conference, but that the general questions as to the free admission of raw materials and the extent to which the duty should be removed from agricultural products and articles largely consumed by the public, were discussed fully.

Efforts to bring the senate and the house into accord before the details of the new tariff bill become public are to be made late this week. Senator Simmons will ask Democratic members of the senate finance committee to meet on Friday for a preliminary consideration of the tariff. At that time it is expected that a copy of the bill prepared by the house ways and means committee will be submitted to the Democratic senators and considered in detail.

Should the senate committee determine that certain features of the bill will not be acceptable to the senate, efforts will be made to have the draft of the bill changed by the house committee or by the Democratic membership of the house when it meets in caucus next week, so that house and senate may be brought into as complete accord as possible in support of the house bill.

SUICIDE BY AEROPLANE

Russian Army Officer Shut Off Motor When 600 Feet in the Air.

London, April 2.—The discovery of a letter in his pocket shows that Lieutenant Perlovski, an aeronaut of the Russian army, deliberately committed suicide at Warsaw on Sunday, when he dropped 600 feet to the ground in his aeroplane, according to a dispatch to the Central News.

It is believed that the aeronaut shut off his motor, allowing himself to fall to certain death. The letter gave as a reason for his action that he had been the victim of many intrigues.

Mystery of the Sea.

New York, April 2.—An unexplained mystery was reported by officers of the steamship Noordam, which arrived from Rotterdam and Boulogne on March 27. The Noordam was in wireless communication with the steamship Potsdam, bound for Rotterdam, and the Potsdam reported that she had passed a lifeboat, about 25 feet long, floating just awash. Oars were fastened to the boat's seats.

Check Fire With Dynamite.

Huntington, W. Va., April 2.—Fire broke out in the flooded residence district here and threatened an entire city block, but the flames were checked by the use of dynamite. Eleven persons were rescued from the burning buildings. Fire engines placed on barges pumped water on the flames. State Fire Marshal Allison directed the work of the firemen.

Killed in Tong Fight.

San Francisco, April 2.—The Chinese Tong war was responsible for another death here when Lee Sing, a Sney Sing man, was killed by two Bing Kong men. The police were surprised by the fact that the Hing Kongers violated all precedent, and instead of fleeing fled at pursuing policemen.

INSURES TEACHERS' JOBS

House Passes Bill Securing Places After Ten Years' Duty.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 2.—The house by a vote of 118 to 95 concurred in the senate's action in passing the Snyder bill, which secures all public school teachers of the state in their positions after they have taught ten years in any one district. The measure now goes to Governor Tener for approval.

There are 40,000 school teachers in Pennsylvania who may be affected in time. A school board is not only required by the measure to enter into a "permanent contract" with every teacher who has taught in the district for ten years to secure her in her position, but is prohibited from removing him or her, or from reducing his or her salary except by a two-thirds vote of the board.

Former instructors, members of the house, vigorously opposed the passage of the Snyder bill. Representative Ulrich, of Westmoreland county, and Representative Anderson, of Center county, were of the number. They declared that "efficiency" is the test that ought to be applied to school teachers as well as to workers in other fields.

The administration club license bill, which would have required all social clubs to obtain liquor licenses from the courts, was defeated in the house by a vote of 111 to 77, the previous question being called to stop the debate.

MRS. PANKHURST INDICTED IN LONDON

Held For "Incitement to Commit Damage."

London, April 2.—A true bill against Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was returned by the grand jury at the Old Bailey sessions on the charge of incitement to commit damage.

Mrs. Pankhurst was arrested on Feb. 24 in connection with the destruction of the country residence of Chancellor Lloyd George. She said at a public meeting that she had conspired with and incited her followers to commit the outrage.

The offense is punishable with penal servitude for a maximum term of fourteen years.

Following a suggestion made by Baron Von Horst, of San Francisco, a number of American suffragists are collecting various instruments used in the forcible feeding of women prisoners. These include screws and pliers to force the jaws apart, feeding tubes and other utensils.

The collection has been lent by doctors friendly to the suffragists. It will be exhibited in American cities and then will be offered to the Smithsonian Institute.

The campaign was continued with more energy than ever on behalf of Miss Zelle Emerson, of Detroit, militant suffragette, undergoing imprisonment for two months for window smashing. A cablegram sent to Theodore Roosevelt by Beatrice Harraden, the author, says:

"I cannot believe that American men, a number of whom expressed to me during my recent visit to America their horror at the system of forcible feeding, will remain indifferent when they learn that their fellow country woman, Miss Zelle Emerson, is undergoing the ordeal in Holloway jail and in a precarious condition."

NEW KING IN EUROPE

Duke of Montpensier Proclaimed as Ruler of Albania.

Paris, April 2.—A dispatch from Brindisi, received here by the Excelsior, says that the Duke of Montpensier was proclaimed king of Albania by the provisional government of that country.

The duke effected an entrance into the harbor of Avolana in his private yacht on Sunday and succeeded in getting in touch with Ismail Kemal Bey, the provisional president, who immediately announced the duke's election as king of Albania.

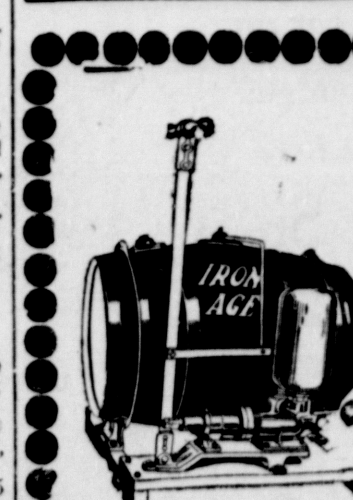

The country which has now set up a government of its own was at the beginning of the Balkan war a vassal of Turkey in Europe. Not long after the war started, however, and in itself harassed on one side by the Bulgarians, on another by the Greeks, and on another by the Serbians, it appealed to the great powers for protection and proclaimed a provisional government.

Prophetic Retort.

The governor of Virginia at a time when Washington as a mere youth ventured to remonstrate against the injustice of a certain decree turned fiercely upon the young man and inquired:

"And who the dickens are you, sir?"

With a cold but courteous bow the young Virginian, drawing himself up to his proud height, frigidly replied: "Nobody in particular just now, but for the future, sir, somebody in general."—Judge.

SPLENDORS OF SPACE.

Matchless Beauty of the Milky Way as Seen in a Telescope.

The Milky Way, or galaxy, is an apparent ring extending entirely around the universe of stars visible in the largest telescope. It is composed of suns in literal millions. They are so remote that, as seen from the earth, they appear to be close to each other, while really they are separated by millions and billions of miles. To the eye the belt of soft light looks like a continuous band of cloth of pearl, but telescopes have the effect of bringing objects nearer. This separates the filmy cloud into many millions of glittering but minute points on the black background of space. At a distance forest trees seem to be close together, but as they are approached they separate and stand alone.

It is next to impossible to describe the matchless beauty of the Milky Way as seen in a telescope of great power. Carpet a large room with black velvet. Hang many electric lights in the ceiling. Throw down and scatter all over the black floor a bushel of minute diamonds, rubies, pearls, sapphires, opals, amethysts and other gems. Then turn on the light.

You would have a faint imitation of the superlative glories of the galactic hosts. For the appalling depths of space look black in our great telescopes. In places these suns look by perspective as though they were arranged in piles, heaps and banks or built up into colossal windows, or twisted into spirals, or dashed into wisps and cosmic spray. In some places the concentration is so great and dense that only the most powerful telescopes on earth can magnify enough to bring out details. A few clusters exist that have not so far been resolved into these needle points.

And the height of human happiness is to watch these vast congeries of distant suns in a huge telescope.—George Wharton James in National Magazine.

In Private.

As he started out with the bushel of ashes he walked into a clothes line that he didn't see.

When he had picked himself out of the ash pile and recovered his hat he stood in the back yard and relieved his feelings.

"Henry," called his wife. "Well?" he snapped. "Don't stand out there to do it. Come straight into the house and tell me that it's all my fault."—Detroit Free Press.

Two Gifts.

They both had sections of the paper. "Here's a New York man gives his wife a diamond necklace," said she. "Nothing like that ever happens to me." "Well," said he, "here's a Chicago man gives his wife a black eye. Nothing like that ever happens to you either, my dear."—Louisville Courier Journal.

CUT LEVEE TO SAVE A TOWN

Shawneetown, Ill., Decides to Dynamite the Dike.

CAIRO IN DESPERATE WAY

Refugees Are Leaving the City. While Hundreds of Others Are Working to Strengthen Levees.

Cairo, Ill., April 2.—The levee at Shawneetown, on the Ohio below here has been ordered cut to save life and property, and it has been decided to dynamite the levee below the town. This will lessen the water pressure.

The levee was holding well, but it was feared the water would go over it and submerge Cairo. Flood conditions at Cairo along the Ohio river levee are declared by the oldest citizens to be the most desperate in their time.

While the Big Four levees in the drainage district are still holding in fact, the water has climbed up over the railroad tracks and it was believed that it was only a question of a few hours until the embankment would go. The gauge was 33.6. The executive committee considered further preventive measures at the Big Four weak spot useless and abandoned that district to its fate.

The Greenfield levee on the Mississippi side of the river, a small affair, is reported to have gone out. The levee in front of Reelfoot lake slough below Hickman, Ky., is being reinforced with rock. A break there, it is said, would mean the flooding of about fourteen counties.

The reports of the weather bureau at Cairo of the upriver and tributary conditions were enough to cause further alarm. No reports came of receding waters as far away as Cincinnati.

Business men acted as switchmen, loaded baggage, unloaded sand, clay and lumber, while clerks and other office employees handled sheaves.

Refugees continued to leave Cairo all night and crowds are still waiting at the depots to get out. Women and children are being sent away on every train. About half the population has left the city. There is a large fleet of river steamers at Cairo.

The levee at Columbus, Ky., went out from five to ten feet of water. With the exception of several families, who are marooned in the second floors of their homes, the entire population of Columbus, about 1000, reached the hills about the city in safety.

Shacks are being built on the hills about Paducah, Ky. Provisions are being assembled and arrangements made to charge the reservoirs with three days' water supply in anticipation of the fifty-six-foot flood stage predicted for Paducah, which would put the entire city under from one to five feet of water.

DAYTON SHORT OF FOOD

Relief Committee Says Supply Situation Is Worse Than Anticipated. Dayton, O., April 2.—The food supply in Dayton has been over-estimated, according to reports received from relief stations.

The relief committee has wired to Secretary of War Garrison that the food situation was much worse than had been anticipated and that the committee would look to the government for supplies. It is estimated that between 30,000 and 40,000 refugees are being fed daily. Provisions must be received in the stricken city before tonight or suffering will follow officials say. Cash is also in great demand.

Three bodies were recovered, bringing the toll of the flood up to 125, according to an estimate by Coroner J. W. McKemy.

E. J. Barney, head of Barney, Smith & Co., a large car works, went with neighbors of high and low estate to the bread line to bring away a basket of provisions. Last week he was ofering $1000 for enough wood alcohol to heat malted milk for his infant grandchild.

Impressed and volunteer laborers are at work refilling the broken levees and clearing up the streets. In this work men, women and children are engaged. Wives of prominent citizens may be seen with shovel and hoe some of them wearing their husband's trousers and rubber boots, doing the work of men.

Orville Wright, the aeroplane builder, and his family, who have been marooned in the west side, reported relief headquarters. Wright's house is in a section which was under two feet of water. When the flood came up waist deep his aged father, Bisho, Wright, was placed in a boat in charge of a man and Wright and his sister Katherine fled on a motor truck.

DIVORCE, WIFE OF COLORED MAN, SUICIDE

Former Spouse of St. Louis Man Ends Her Life.

St. Louis, April 2.—Mrs. Julia McFarlane Gerhart, divorced wife of Charles B. Gerhart, brother of Frank H. Gerhart, of St. Louis, died as the result of taking poison with suicidal intent at the home of Mrs. Adeline Cox.

Later Mrs. Cox announced that after her divorce Mrs. Gerhart had married a colored man. She took the poison after a long spell of brooding because her colored husband had followed her from St. Paul to St. Louis.

Mrs. Gerhart was divorced last November and fifteen days later, according to Mrs. Cox, she married a colored man, I. W. Kellogg, at St. Paul. Kellogg formerly was butler in the Gerhart home.

In her divorce petition, filed last September, she said that Gerhart was worth $200,000, but since their separation the preceding April he had given her only $30 for her support. The court granted her alimony of $2000 a year.

Mrs. Cox objected to visits from Kellogg, but Mrs. Gerhart answered that the colored man was her butler.

Mrs. Gerhart was the niece of the late Chief Justice George B. McFarlane, of the Missouri supreme court.

Casket Is Broken and Child's Body Thrown Out.

York, Pa., April 2.—During the funeral of the three-year-old baby boy of Ambrose Eisenhour the horse attached to the hearse ran away, and the rough box containing the casket was thrown into the road.

The box and the casket burst open and the child's body fell out. The horse was so badly injured that it had to be killed.

Charles Ellicker, of Rossville, the undertaker, and his young son, Robert, were severely injured. Ellicker was driving the hearse, and in an effort to avoid striking the minister's buggy ran the team into a fence.

SAYS MORGAN HAD CANCER

Said to be Report of Post-mortem Examination.

LITERALLY STARVED TO DEATH

He Was Unable to Take Nourishment For Days Before the End Came in Roman Hotel.

Rome, April 2.—The body of J. Pierpont Morgan after it had been embalmed and dressed, was enclosed in a walnut casket, lined with white brocade. This was then placed in a leaden casket and finally in a third case of heavy walnut, with gold and silver fittings.

United States Ambassador O'Brien has offered to hold a funeral service at the embassy in pursuance of instructions received from Secretary of State Bryan.

No definite arrangements have been made for the transport of the body to America, but it is understood that accommodations have been offered on board the Koenig Albert, leaving Naples on April 4.

M. Pulaski, a student of the American Art academy, took a death mask of Mr. Morgan for a memorial which the academy will erect. This was the second mask taken, the first being made by Prince Paul Troubetskoy, who accompanied Post Wheeler, of the United States embassy, to the death chamber.

Mrs. Herbert Satterlee, daughter of Mr. Morgan and his favorite child, is prostrated with grief and is being cared for by a physician and a nurse.

Previous statements made by the doctors disclosed the fact that Mr. Morgan had been unable to take food, he simply wasted away and literally starved to death. Artificial nourishment was resorted to last Wednesday and continued to the last.

A statement attributed to Professor Bastianelli follows:

"Mr. Morgan's death was due primarily to nervous collapse, due largely to his strenuous life and lack of power to recuperate energy, both mental and physical, which a younger man might have expended with impunity, but which a man of seventy-six cannot expect to do. The immediate cause was stomach trouble which, acting on the nervous system, caused his collapse. Until two days ago I had hopes that his constitution would pull him through, but, as often happens in these cases, nature succumbed almost unexpectedly, and the end came rapidly."

That the postmortem examination of the body showed that the great financier had died of cancer of the stomach was a report persistently circulated. Doctors who attended Mr. Morgan refused to affirm or deny the report, but Professor Bastianelli referred again to the written statement prepared by the physicians and turned over to Herbert L. Satterlee, son-in-law of Mr. Morgan.

"Mr. Satterlee will make the statement public at his discretion," said Professor Bastianelli.

The symptoms in Mr. Morgan's case tended, it is declared, to bear out the report that cancer of the stomach had caused death. Mr. Morgan's stomach would retain no nourishment even before it became necessary to inject his food. In the last forty-eight hours there was no assimilation, and during the last hours Mr. Morgan suffered in intense internal pain, as was shown by the deep lines of the face and contraction of the muscles of the right hand.

The physicians are said to have admitted that they could not satisfactorily explain the complete nervous exhaustion and collapse of the financier, finding no evidence of organic disease. Mr. Morgan fully expected to recover.

"I will be up and about by Sunday sure," Mr. Morgan had told Dr. George A. Dixon on Saturday. "Don't baby me so. If only I could get aboard my boat."

He insisted at that time that he would be able to leave Rome on Tuesday. He had ordered a special train to take him to Aix-les-Bains, where he hoped to spend his seventy-sixth birthday anniversary on April 17.

GUESSING AT FORTUNE

Morgan's Holdings Estimated at $100,000,000 to $300,000,000.

New York, April 2.—Estimates of the fortune left by J. P. Morgan, as made in the financial district, range from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000, this sum including his art collections.

It is understood that the financier's will is of comparatively recent date, but no intimation has been made as to when it will be given to the public. Those who shared Mr. Morgan's close friendship predict that there will be large charitable and public bequests, although it is conceded that his son J. P. Morgan, Jr., will doubtless receive the bulk of the fortune.

Mr. Morgan's realty holdings were comparatively small, and by far the greater part of the estate, it is understood, will be found to be made up of "gilt-edged" securities.

HUNTERS' LICENSE

Bill is Reconsidered and Passed after Lively Fight.

After much debating the Davis hunters' license bill is through the House and it is now up to the Senate. The bill, which requires all hunters to take out a license at $1 and to display the license number, was reconsidered and passed finally Monday night after a display of oratory and the raising of a number of interesting questions about right to vote. The bill was defeated last week through lack of seven votes. It received 112 votes to 77 against it Monday night. Mr. Steedle, Allegheny, moved reconsideration and Mr. Runk, Franklin, who had been the ornamental speaker against it on previous occasions, made an attack, reading literature circulated by opponents of the bill. Mr. Davis, Lackawanna, read in reply a letter from a farmer favoring the bill, and Mr. Bayle, Erie, said with much choice wording that the farmers up in his county were for it to a man. Mr. Spangler, York, attacked the bill as an unfair proposition and was answered by Mr. Lower, Allegheny, who outlined what the effect of the bill would be and how it would enable farmers to detect persons trespassing on their lands and how the work of the State Game Commission would be aided.
